MAY MUZZLE ALL ALAMEDA CANINES

Health Official Believes People Are Endangered With Mad Dogs at Large.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27.—Closely following the attack upon Charles Vaccarezza by a rabid dog comes the agitation for again adopting a muzzling ordinance. Health Officer Arthur Hieronymus declares that the people of the city are not safe from Vaccarezza a prisoner in the hospital. He is strongly in favor of the adoption of a muzzling ordinance again, and reasons muzzling legislation such as is now pending in Oakland.

Six months of last year the muzzling of all dogs running at large was compulsory, but the ordinance expired with the year. Hieronymus said today that a six months period of muzzling is not sufficient and recommends that the ordinance be enacted so that it will be re-enacted.

Young Vaccarezza is taking the Pasteur treatment at the state laboratory. The dog that bit him has been examined at the laboratory and is pronounced one of the most dangerous cases that has been called to the attention of the authorities.

POLICE GET BOLD JELL BUCCANEER

NEW VITAL RECORD IS NOW BEING PREPARED

ALAMEDA, Aug. 28.—A card index system, whereby the records of births and deaths may be instantly available, is being arranged by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus, city physician. Hieronymus states that the vital statistics are almost impossible to find under the present order of things, and that the work, although arduous, must be carried out. The necessity of such an index was brought forcibly to the attention of the physician when he was called upon recently to give a burial report upon a death that occurred in March, 1933. Several hours were consumed in searching the vital statistics before the information sought was available.

Seeks Divorce From Hubby Plea of Repentance Is Vain

MRS. L. C. HINKEL, SOCIETY WOMAN WHO SEEKS DIVORCE. WITH HER PRIZE CAT "BERKELEY FRIAR," AND A NEIGHBOR'S CHILD.

"I have the greatest of sympathy for my husband, but still I want a divorce."

So said Mrs. Lewis Hinkel, society woman and wife of the well-known stock broker, following her filing of a suit for a divorce yesterday. Sympathy in plenty, but no hope of reconciliation, were what she extended to her repentant spouse when, yesterday, the latter called on her, pleading that her action had "brought him to his senses and softened his heart." He declared that he wanted another chance. She informed him that no matter how soft his heart might be, there was "nothing doing."

"I have tried for eight years to reform him and was the only one able to control him," she declared. "When I failed there was no hope." "I made up my mind," she declared yesterday, "the last time he struck me that he would never have another opportunity." She accuses him of divers cruelties and states that he has never attempted to "make good."

PROMINENT IN CLUB LIFE

The couple have been married eight years. Hinkel is the son of John Hinkel, a well-known financier, and has been prominent in club life. It is declared that the family have not recognized the wife since the divorce was filed, but that the bridegroom's father offered to make a settlement for her after the divorce. She declares that her husband's parents paid all the bills, and that he had little to do but to sit there and eat. "The trouble dates from the first month we were married," declared

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, dummies and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and always fever.

AMMONIA CAUSES WILD STAMPEDE

Bursts in Dairy and Drives Employes From Place in Great Hurry.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 28.—A large tank of ammonia gas, used in operating an ice machine at the start of the Western dairy in this city, drove the employes from the building and held effective control of the place more than half an hour. The tank was in the refrigerator room, and Engineer William Prescott had started the ammonia compressor, when the tank exploded, flooding the building with the powerful fumes.

The fumes followed him into the office of the company, and Proprietor William Heath and clerks joined in a wild stampede for the outside. The butter and cheese room were closed and there was no loss, other than the ammonia itself.

An ordinary cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine—a poisonous drug.

Five grains of caffeine is enough to kill a rabbit. Of course that much wouldn't kill a man.

But continual coffee drinking usually produces biliousness, headache, dullness, sleeplessness, irritability and heart agitation. Many people have gotten rid of these troubles by quitting coffee and using

INSTANT POSTUM

It is pure and made entirely of Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane. Postum is a genuine food-drink—rich in Nature's phosphates, and contains no drug whatever.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled).

Instant Postum requires no boiling, but is made instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water with cream and sugar to taste.

Experiment until you get it to suit your taste, then have it always made that way. Made right, Postum has a delightful flavor, resembling high-grade Java.

If coffee don't agree, suppose you leave it off ten days and try Postum.

Drink it instead of coffee.

A warm spell visited the bay region early this morning and the absence of fog or breeze from the ocean.

The presence of a pressure over the Pacific slope indicates the likelihood of showers tonight or tomorrow. But little rain fell last night and this was confined largely to the coast region. There were light showers in Nevada and in the upper Mississippi valley and western lake region. The temperature has risen over Oregon and Washington. In the East the weather conditions are fair, but it is very warm in the Missouri City 102, Des Moines 92, New Orleans 90.

LAND BUYERS ON WAY TO SOLANO

Colorado Settlers to Look for Farms in This State

A carload of buyers is on the way from Colorado to California to look over Solano farms. This marks the beginning of the campaign of A. J. Rich & Co. to bring settlers from beyond the borders of the state during the season when the railroad company rates are effective. They have had two of their agents in Colorado for three months and the first contingent in search of California farms will soon be followed by others. Shortly the efforts will be extended from the middle west, where farmers this season have suffered greatly from drought. With them the experience of inextinguishable water from the Sacramento river and a growing crop of alfalfa and other crops to be sold to some advantage.

BOOTBLACK STRUCK BY TRAIN: SKULL FRACTURED

Peter Buswina, a bootblack living at 1714 East Eleventh street, was struck by a Melrose flyer on Seventh street shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, with the result that he sustained a fractured skull. He is in a precarious condition at the emergency hospital, where an operation was performed last night.

Jim Smith says his baby is the finest yet. Not having one of my own, I don't doubt him.

LAKESIDE BURGLAR SUSPECT CAPTURED

Through the daring of George Barrett, janitor of the Aunston apartments, 2103 Webster street, the capture of a man who may be the Lakeside burglar was effected last night. The man gave the name of Arthur Hatfield, and stated that he had entered the place in search of food. He had taken four peaches and a bottle of mineral water from the store-room. The police found a number of matches in the man's pocket of the kind habitually used by the Lakeside burglar. They will carefully examine him and trace his actions for the past few weeks to assure themselves whether he is not the Lakeside thief. Barrett had been to the theater last night and was returning home when he saw a man lurking about the place. He watched him enter, and then stole after him and captured him in the store room. Hatfield said that he was from Boston, and that he lodged in a cheap lodging house. Inspectors McSorley and Emch are working on the case.

Army-Navy Football Game Is Called Off

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Official announcement was made by the army athletic council this afternoon that there would be no army-navy football game this year. The game will play the Calvary Indian school instead of the navy, at West Point on November 23.

BIDS OPENED FOR MUNICIPAL BONDS

Twenty-Three Are Received,
Highest Being Halsey Co. at $1,015,510.

Bids were received for the $999,000 municipal bonds this morning, the N. W. Halsey Company of New York and San Francisco being the highest bidder. The bid was $1,015,510, thus offering a premium of $25,510.

The Halsey Company was joined in the bid by the Central National Bank of Oakland and the Oakland Bank of Savings.

This company did not bid when the bonds were offered at five per cent. The city council readjusted offering five and one-half per cent and 23 bids were received this morning.

The big premium reduces the five and one-half per cent to five and one-fifth per cent, the present market rate of money. The next highest bidder was E. H. Rollins and Sons, the bid being $1,015,510.

There were five bidders who offered to purchase the entire issue of $999,000 in bonds. In addition to Halsey and Rollins concerns these bidders were as follows:

Bond and Goodwin Company, $1,011,194
The Continental Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, $1,005,183
London, Paris National Bank, $964,386.70

There were 19 other bidders, offering to take from one to 150 bonds. All the bids were received by the city clerk of Finance Forrest and City Attorney B. F. Woolner.

Alleged 'Dopers' of Horses Arrested

SEATTLE, Aug. 23.—With the arrest of Andrew F. Gormley at Vancouver, B. C., and of John E. Laher in Seattle yesterday, Sheriff Cuddehe believes he has caught the leaders of a group of horse dealers who are alleged to have obtained fraudulently $300,000 from people in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle during the last four years. Fifty thousand dollars is said to have been obtained in Seattle within thirty days by the gang, which is accused of having given out and furnished horses. Injections of medicine which made them appear young and valuable and caused buyers to pay fancy prices for them. Often, according to complaints received by the sheriff, horses dropped dead before the purchasers got them home.

Charges Against Pastor Mason Heard

LONG BEACH, Aug. 23.—A hearing to precede a final decision on charges of misconduct and indiscretion against Rev. O. H. L. Mason, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Long Beach, was today before a commission of six pastors and five elders of the Los Angeles Presbytery. The hearing was conducted in private, witnesses appearing singly. Among them were several young women members of the church toward whom, it is alleged, the conduct of Rev. Mason had been improper. An alleged confession of Rev. Mason said to have been made by him immediately after the accusations which reached the ears of officers of the church was introduced by the faction opposed to him.

MAID CAPTURES ALLEGED THIEF AFTER STRUGGLE

After pursuing Paul Jenner for two blocks, Ada Smith, maid at 416 Sixth street, captured and held him by a cloud of hair until the arrival of Patrolman Brewster. The young woman engaged Jenner in a hand-to-hand struggle and succeeded in holding him. Jenner, who has been in trouble before, entered the place contacted by Mrs. Valerius Black in Sixth street, and he agreed to have stolen a purse containing $71. He was followed by the girl, and entered a Japanese store at 417 Seventh street, where he took the gold from the purse and concealed the silver in the place. The girl was seen running after the man by passerby, and when she finally captured him, was assisted in holding him by several citizens. Jenner was arrested several months ago and placed on probation on a battery charge.

TRAFFIC RESUMED BY S. P. AT CALIENTE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—Southern Pacific officials here announced this morning that their lines in the San Joaquin valley, near Caliente, which were damaged by a fire, had been repaired and were again open to traffic.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 23.—The streets of Caliente were flooded last night with six feet of water, two houses were washed from their foundations and 500 feet of track on the Southern Pacific railroad swept away. The rain fell this afternoon in the hills east of Bakersfield. Lightning accompanying the storm burned out three dynamites in the Edison Electric Company plant in the Kern river canyon and put the telegraph and telephone lines out of commission in the valley.

After hearing the testimony of nearly 30 witnesses, the court today continued the term of probation of Hamilton Renton, an electrician, charged by the prosecution with breaking the terms of his probation. Perry A. Long, also brought to court on a charge of violating his probation, was released by Superior Judge Murphy, when it was not apparent to be any material evidence against him.

SCUBOONER BONITA SAVED BY LIFE-SAVING CREWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Two life-saving crews and a government tug united their efforts early last evening to rescue the schooner William G. Irwin from the rocks off Point Bonita, whether she had drifted after becoming becalmed on the incoming tide, while putting out to sea. The Irwin is carrying lime between San Francisco and Raccoon Bay, Washington, and was sailing light for the latter port what becalmed.

Pass the Liquor Ordinance as It Stands

WHILE falling short in a few particulars of what THE TRIBUNE would like to see accomplished, the new liquor ordinance introduced in the Council is deserving of the indorsement and earnest backing of every citizen who sincerely desires to abate existing evils and improve the moral tone of the city.

The ordinance embodies a comprehensive and effective scheme of reform. A moral revolution has been translated into legislative action. While it does not go far enough in our opinion, it is far more than those demanding still more drastic measures dared hope for a month ago. To insist upon more extreme measures would alienate the sympathy of moderate men, without whose active support no movement looking to an improvement of social conditions can be made effective.

Therefore THE TRIBUNE urges the Law and Order League, the Civic League, the Church Federation, the Child's Welfare League and all other organizations enlisted in the movement to reduce the number of saloons and abate the evils attending the sale of liquor by retail to stand for the ordinance as it is written and present a united front in urging the Council to pass it without amendment. As it was drawn by the City Attorney it must be taken as harmonizing the conflicting views of individual members of the Council and as reflecting the unanimous conclusion they have reached as to what is best to be done in the present exigency.

The Council will be urged to make the ordinance weaker and less drastic, and in opposing such demands the law and order forces should not encourage division and give ground for dissension by making further demands which will tend to throw the whole question again in the air.

We want an early settlement of this question; moreover, peace is desirable and prolonged agitation is to be avoided if possible and should be avoided if the results achieved are measurably satisfactory.

The ordinance substantially meets the demand for reform at all points. It does not embody all some of us might wish, but it presents a scheme of regulation and diminution which is both sweeping and salutary and which will effectively and speedily clean up Oakland and give it a moral prestige it has not hitherto enjoyed. Viewed in its practical aspect it is a victory for the moral elements of society such as has never been won in so short a time. Every change is for the better and the changes are both numerous and radical. It would be unwise to hazard what has been gained by haggling over minor details or insisting upon amendments which will provoke fresh antagonism and increase the penalties of those engaged in the liquor business.

The Commissioners, with Mayor Mott at their head, have responded with alacrity and resolution to the popular demand for reform. They have faced the rising sun and sunk personal feelings and personal differences in a sincere effort to root out the corrupting influences which have provoked so much complaint and indignation. Threats and pleadings have not deterred them from doing their duty. Their responsibility has distressing phases, be sure of that, and they have been forced to bear with many things which test a man's fortitude and firmness of mind. Interest has approached them from every side, and the ties of old friendship have pulled at their heartstrings.

Yet they have stood up for the right and faced the situation with manly courage. They deserve commendation and moral support. It is the duty of the forces which have impelled them to their action to give them solid backing and earnest sympathy. What they have agreed upon the people should indorse and stand by. Honor officials who stand fair and true. Faithfulness cannot be relied upon unless the people are loyal to faithful servants of the public. Hence THE TRIBUNE urges the good people of Oakland, who have made and won a good fight, to stand by the Council and the pending liquor ordinance.

Provided, however, that compromise goes no further and that no encouragement is given to efforts to tear the ordinance to pieces. No further concessions should be made to the saloon interests. The limit of concession was reached when the number of family liquor stores was increased from twenty-five to forty and the time for reducing the number of saloons to two hundred extended to July 1, 1914. We did not approve those concessions, but THE TRIBUNE is not a dictator and it recognizes that the spirit of compromise enters into the adjustment of all questions affecting many interests and a large number of people.

What we wish to emphasize is that the Council has met the issue before them with firmness and courage, and has done all that could be reasonably expected of them. They have offered a measure of reform of a character so sweeping that its beneficial effects can scarcely be overestimated. Now let the people who have been demanding reform get behind them and give them all aid and encouragement to carry the thing through without delay. Let reason and justice go hand in hand with righteousness in support of the officials charged with the performance of an onerous and disagreeable duty.

Having resolved all doubts and decided upon a definite line of action, let us all go forward to the support of the Mayor and Council and the ordinance they have framed. They deserve support and the people who have been striving for the improvement of social conditions in this city will be false to themselves and the cause which they espoused if support be lacking.

Pass the ordinance. Let us agree upon that and we can afford to let the future take care of itself. But THE TRIBUNE will continue to strive for a betterment of conditions in Oakland. While it accepts this ordinance as a long stride in the direction of what we wish to ultimately attain, it does not regard it as ideally perfect or a final adjustment of the saloon question. It will continue to stand on guard and expose and protest against failures to enforce this ordinance in the spirit of its letter and purpose. The immoral cafe and the disreputable dive shall not be permitted to exist in this city if THE TRIBUNE has any voice. It will continue to lift up its voice for the suppression of dens of vice and for outlawing immorality practiced under the pretense that it is business. We will labor to arouse public sentiment to the iniquity of allowing gambling and sexual immorality to flourish under political protection or the lax enforcement of the laws.

A Postal Telegraph Service Needed.

The success achieved by the parcel post, postal savings banks, special delivery and free rural mail delivery encourages the belief that the postal service may be still further broadened. The parcel post has broken the back of the express monopoly, and free rural mail delivery has contributed immensely to the moral elevation and material betterment of country life.

With the success and growing popularity of such undertakings before us, why is not the postal telegraph something to be desired? Why should telegraphic communication be in the hands of a grasping monopoly? Telegraph tolls are expensive beyond all reason. If it is wise for the government to transport the mails and deliver letters at the householder's door, whether in town or country, why is it not equally wise to transmit messages by telegraph?

Private enterprise is to be encouraged, and the government should not invade the field of business enterprise unless there be special reasons for it—either to provide a needed facility or to abate an abuse. The abuse is here in the shape of extortionate charges. The people are systematically overcharged.

The charges of the telegraph monopoly should be regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission or the government should install a postal telegraph service.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, former president of Harvard University, is of the opinion that modern civilization is destroying the vitality of the human race. He reasons that man was created to dwell amid the woods and fields, and that he is violating the laws of his being by crowding in cities and ordering his life on an artificial basis. Dr. Eliot does not go quite far enough. Man originally dwelt in caves and went naked, killing his food with a club and eating it raw. Every step from that condition has been away from primitive habit. Carried to a logical conclusion, Dr. Eliot's theory would take man back to his caves, raw flesh and going naked. Why should he take man in the mid-period of his development, when he was cooking his food, wearing clothes and tilling the fields, to picture his condition then as his natural state? Dr. Eliot ignores the patent fact that the further man has receded from his natural state the further he has advanced as an ethical and sentient being, the higher he has developed his intellectual faculties and moral aspirations. Did it never occur to Dr. Eliot that the Providence which created man and placed him on this planet ordained that he should learn how to live, how to adjust himself to the circumstances in which he was placed—to work out his own salvation in brief?

Are there no roads out of repair in Kansas that the Governor that bleeding commonwealth goes over into Missouri to work on the roads? But the people of Kansas may think Governor Harvey is rendering them a service by doing road work in Missouri than pottering around the capitol in Topeka.

Every woman's fault is every man's misfortune.—Gail Hamilton.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A bachelor guesses that most of the women haters are married men. Nothing pays a bigger dividend on a small investment than politeness.

Deliver us from the sympathetic man who always sympathizes with himself.

But it isn't fair to judge a girl by the company she is obliged to entertain.

Some men would rather meander along the crooked path than go home sober.

And the less a man is abused the more he doesn't amount to.

No woman is supposed to look her age, no matter what it is.

What a girl likes about a young man is usually what her mother doesn't.

A talkative wife maketh a silent husband.

The older we get the more it hurts us to be scolded.

Many a man's wishbone is where his backbone ought to be.

Never judge the value of an article by the price asked for it.

We often wonder if some self-made men do not suffer from remorse.

It is easier to check the baggage than it is to check the baggage smasher.

Wise is the man who puts his ears on the job and gives his tongue a vacation.

Man who boasts that their souls are steady may not know a soul if they saw it.

It's surprising how much news people can give a reporter that is not intended for publication.

It doesn't take a bride long to discover that no woman can live in absolute content in a vine clad cottage with a tightwad husband.

He contemplates appealing to the civil service commission.

MARE ISLAND, Aug. 28.—The news that the contract for the destroyer tender Melville has been awarded to the New York Shipbuilding company was received with considerable surprise at the navy yard yesterday morning, as it was believed that Mare Island had a chance to secure the contract. However, the Melville has been awarded to a private shipbuilding plant with no doubt mean that Mare Island will get two of the new torpedo-boat destroyers to construct, plans of which are expected from Washington.

At Local Playhouses

MACDONOUGH.

"Les Miserables," the remarkable photo-drama, which recently played to capacity houses at the Cort Theater in San Francisco, will be shown on the screen at the Macdonough theater for six days, beginning with Sunday matinee, August 21, with daily matinees thereafter.

"Les Miserables" is directed by an actor cast picked from the leading theaters of Paris, and its fidelity to the original novel is due perhaps to the fact that it is Hugo as interpreted by the greatest living French actors, transferred directly to the films.

The production consists of nine reels and requires nearly three hours for its presentation. Into these nine reels are crowded every dramatic situation of note contained in the pages of the novel, and no minor detail of the plot is missing.

The production is divided into four acts—"Jean Valjean," "Fantine," "Cosette" and "The March." Remarkable photography and lighting add to the effect of the pictures and do much to aid in making it a performance worthy of a first-class theater.

COLUMBIA.

Only three days remain in which to see Dillon and King with their Ginger Girls in their laughing episode entitled "In Banana Land." The Columbia theater has been taxed to its utmost capacity at every performance this week by the patrons of the house who were anxious to see their favorites in their farewell offering.

The comedians have chosen an unusually bright comedy for their last week in Oakland. The scene is laid upon an imaginary island somewhere in the South Pacific. Mike and Ike, two scotch travelers, arrive to visit a friend, a wealthy plantation owner. Their hostess, a woman, by the way, arranges many novel and exciting amusements in honor of their presence. The Hebrew and Irishman are involved in many ludicrous scenes.

The cast includes all of the Columbia players, Dillon and King, Maude Egan, Ernest Van Pelt, Blanche Trelease, Jack Wise and the Ginger Girls. The musical program contains many enjoyable numbers. The following are proving exceedingly popular: "Why, Hello, Dear," "Cross the Mason-Dixon Line," "Roll on Missouri," "Back to the Old Folks at Home" and "Chimpanzee."

IDORA PARK.

The light rain made no difference to patrons of Idora Park last evening. The weather was mild and pleasant out of doors and the big canvas canopy kept the meager downpour from the spectators.

The ardor of enthusiasm that has marked the production of "The Girl From Paris" this week at Idora was undiminished last night, and Mindel Kangston in the title role flaming about the stage in radiant attire, added another triumph to her list. H. Guy Wood, the new comedian, marked the role of Major Possadsky for his own, and the pretty new ingenue was received with favor. Elmer, Jack Pollard and Tom Bundy carried their parts with credit.

The merit of the production is due in a large measure to the untiring labors of John Kaynes, musical and stage director, and to Fred Snook, assistant stage director. "The Girl From Paris" will continue till Sunday night, with matinees Saturday and Sunday.

Labor Day will be celebrated at Idora Park, a special matinee of "Honeydew Trail," the big Hough and Adams hit, being announced.

Preparations are being made for a big four days N. S. G. W. celebration at Idora Park, commencing September 4. The feature of the affair will be the first performance of the famous Auto continents and the object of scientific wonderment. The auto, driven by daredevil members of the Gregg family, leap an air gap of 50 feet, one machine passing over the other in mid-air.

ORPHEUM

There is something of a fun festival to be enjoyed at the Oakland Orpheum this week, the laugh-making features being predominant in the vaudeville program. One of the greatest successes made by any sketch in recent months is scored by George Ade's delightful comedy play, "Speaking to Father." In this play, "Father" is portrayed by Milton Pollock, one of the best known character actors in America. Every member of the cast is an artist and the result is a most delightful bit of comedy entertainment.

The George Ade play is to be seen during this week only. All the other acts of special interest to Oakland theatergoers are scheduled for the week ending next Saturday night. There are but three days more of the Hall Family of nine musicians: Ward Baker, the violinist; Will Rogers, the Oklahoma cowboy, who is achieving a very great success; the Du-Foys, English dancers; Ramezes, the Egyptian magician; Mack and Williams, novelty dancers.

Of special interest to Oakland theatergoers is the announcement of Edwards Davis, formerly a prominent clergyman of Oakland, who will be the star at the Orpheum next week in a beautiful production called "The Kingdom of David." This is an allegory, written in rhyming verse, and in form is reminiscent of "Evergreen," "Elixir of Progress" of John Brunner or Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales."

The period of the play is in the seventeenth century and the locale is northern Italy when that country was divided with many minor principalities. This has afforded the scenic artist a splendid opportunity and Messrs. Gates and Edwards have appreciated their chance to depict one of the most unusual stage settings which has been designed for vaudeville use. The costumes of the period are romantic and susceptible of exquisite colorings. In this end of the production, the services of Dorian and Orange, respectively, have been employed. The electrical effects have been especially equipped by Kiehl. The scene production under the personal direction of Mr. Edwards, the author of the poem, has proceeded under the interested care of Mr. E. P. Albee and Mr. Martin Beck.

PANTAGES

We always had a sort of idea that English girls really truly enjoyed King George, right from across the water, were slow, staid, and phlegmatic. At least, the pretty ones. We say that we always had this notion. We have seen the Eight English Roses at the Oakland Pantages this week since thinking these thoughts. And a box every English lady's pardon. This galaxy of pretty girls are undoubtedly English. They are also undoubtedly very pretty—to such an extent that they even disregard most of the ordinary stage make-up. They are tall and statuesque and haughty. But they surely can dance.

On the Pantages bill is the Victoria Four, Dilla and Templeton, contortionists. In a scene called "The Goblin's Den," Chas. Lindholm & Co. in "The Man From Minnesota," the Tyler, St. Clair Trio of marionette players; Matilde De Luxe, acrobatic comedienne; the Four Cyclone McNutt and motion pictures of the Dicks-Caminetti case.

Next week the headlines will be two of America's foremost musical comedy stars, Joseph E. Howard, the song composer, and Mabel McFarlane, comedienne.

SAVOY

The combination of the excellent staging and a timely topic must be taken as the explanation of enthusiasm with which the San Francisco public is attending "The Traffic" on its fourth week of a remarkable summer run.

"The Traffic" goes straight to the causes, the methods, the motives and the results of prostitution. Its fascinating truths disclose the industrial reasons marked and evident throughout its performance. Its denunciation is both logical and artistic, as evidenced in the conclusion as it is almost cruelly truthful in its development and progress.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

SUNDAY CLOSING IS TURNED DOWN

The Hayward Trustees Decide Against Compelling Saloons to Observe Sabbath.

HAYWARD, Aug. 28.—A petition asking for Sunday closing of saloons in Hayward presented by the Good Government League was turned down by the town trustees at a very lively meeting last night. Interest in the Sunday closing issue was evidenced by the overflow meeting at the town hall, many of the citizens being unable to get admission. The supporters of the petition and several trustees and those against Sunday closings of saloons, and statements were made to be heatedly challenged by the opposite party.

Excepting Sunday closing, the other regulations of saloons asked for in the petition will come into operation. The trustees agreed to refer these other issues to the committee on ordinances, with instructions to draw up an ordinance calling for the provision of open glass fronts to saloons, the abolition of so-called "family or ladies' entrances and private boxes or rooms for the drinking of liquors, and also providing for the renewal of bonds annually and that the application for licenses must be in writing and that the applicant shall file at the same time the written assent of at least ten freeholders living in the vicinity where such a saloon is to be located.

PRESIDENT OPENS DISCUSSION.

Rev. Hamilton Lee, president of the Good Government League, opened the Sunday closing discussion. Others who spoke in favor of the passing of an ordinance for Sunday closing were Attorney Murphy, Mrs. F. F. Allen, president of the Hill and Valley club, Rev. Naylor, Rev. J. Thompson, Rev. C. H. Rogers and E. N. Mabray, principal of the grammar school.

Among those who were against the issue was A. Stanley, who said that such a step as Sunday closing would be futile. Mayor Charles Heyer would the saloons were conducted in a proper manner and were obeying all the ordinances.

Rev. Thompson challenged this statement and said he knew of a saloon which had been open after closing time recently. Asked why he didn't have the night watchman keep an eye on the saloons and make a report, Rev. Thompson replied that the night watchman is rarely seen around by anyone.

Resolved is a strong motion that the Sunday closing petition be granted, but this found no second among the trustees.

Mayor Heyer said he favored the adoption of other regulations called for in the petition, and as stated, these other issues will be embodied in an ordinance.

MOOSE TO ENTERTAIN AT MAMMOTH PICNIC

Mother Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Any person who may doubt the merits of Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for the Throat and Lungs, which has brought about many complete recoveries, should investigate the case of Stanislaus of St. Anne's Convent, Sanford, Fla. She writes:

Convent of St. Anne, Sanford, Fla.
"Gentlemen: In February, 1911, our doctors examined my throat and pronounced the necessity of an operation. Having heard at Pensacola, N. Y. Mochelone of the Sisters of St. Francis, where I was residing, of Eckman's Alternative, I determined as a last resort to try it. After taking four or five bottles large pieces of diseased tissue came away. I continued the Alternative, in my grateful surprise to find that the condition was restored to perfect health. I would be glad to write or talk to any person who may have a doubt about it. I would like them to see and hear from my own lips. If they so desire, all I would say is of this:
(Signed) MOTHER M. STANISLAUS.

Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists. month, the exact date not having been set. The ceremony will be extremely quiet, owing to the recent death of the bride's father, Captain Hatch, well-known in this city. Both the young people are well known in fraternal circles, as they formerly attended the University of California.

WEDDING DATE SET.

The wedding date for the marriage of Miss Eleanor Hart and George D. Smith Jr. has been set for November 11. More than two hundred guests have been bidden to attend the ceremony, which will be an elaborate affair and will take place in the Unitarian church in Berkeley. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hart. Mrs. Olden McElrath, formerly Miss Mary Smith, a bride of a year, will attend as matron of honor for Miss Hart, and Miss Genevieve Gross will be the maid of honor. Miss Alice Heston, Miss Ruth Hamblin and Miss Lucille McCabe of Stockton will be the bridesmaids. The wedding will be one of the largest affairs of the winter season in the college town, as both Miss Hart and Mr. Smith are well known in the bay region socially.

Miss Lella Lovick was hostess this afternoon at a card party in honor of Mrs. Nicholas Wedgden of New York, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Burdick, in Piedmont. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon and about fifty of the members of the younger set were present. Mrs. Wedgden was Miss Mary Burdick before her marriage, which was an event two years ago. This is her first visit to her home since that time. Several social gatherings have been planned in honor of the visitor before her return to her home in the east, sometime in September.

RETURNED FROM THE EAST. Miss Doris Bornemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bornemann, will arrive from the east tomorrow morning after an absence of ten weeks, to her residence in Vernon street.

HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON. At a delightfully appointed luncheon Mrs. Howard J. Jernin was hostess this afternoon, having as her guests of honor her house guests, Miss May Clark of San Jose and Mrs. M. F. Farr of Los Angeles, cousins of the hostess. A beautiful centerpiece adorned the luncheon table of dainty maiden-hair ferns and orchids. Among the guests were Mrs. J. T. Rucker of San Francisco, Miss Edith Rucker, Mrs. Milton Boulware of San Jose and the Mesdames Helen and Susan Boulware and Mrs. H. N. Rucker.

CELEBRATE TRIPLE ANNIVERSARY. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. J. Truman was the scene of a pretty celebration last evening when Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Russell, Rev. E. J. Bradner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. J. Truman celebrated their wedding anniversary on that date. The discovery that they might all lay claim to the same day was the motif for the evening's pleasure, at which about three dozen guests were present. The diversions of the evening were several interesting guessing contests and music, after which at the close of the evening a dainty repast was served by the hostess to her guests.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE. Formal announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Ruby Perault to George Ellis. The announcement was made at a whist party last evening, given at the Perault home.

PLEASE DO NOT KISS ME

(By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.)

THE humanitarian who conceived the idea of printing the significant words upon a white silken flag: "Please do not kiss me," which was intended to pin upon baby carriages, bestowed a blessing upon the helpless little mites. A witty school girl of sweet 15 noted recently, the possibilities of the little flag, and, surreptitiously borrowing the banner from her sister's ambulator, coyly pinned it upon her breast as she strolled on the beach of a famous summer resort the other day. The girl was pretty and was dressed so natty that she would have attracted attention anywhere. But with this silken banner floating from her breast as only a watched anxiously to get at the real meaning soon saw the method of this policy. The girl and her companions waited for an incoming train. This vigilance was soon rewarded by the arrival of a party of schoolgirls. Three or four additional young men accompanied the group.

The girl who wore the banner was evidently a favorite. A score or more of kisses would have been implanted on her lips had it not been for that banner. The kissing between girls and women. The other day a peddler who touched the hearts of passengers by carrying a silver hand, gave a young girl with her hand chased some of his wares a silver quarter in exchange for a half dollar. The thoughtless maiden put the bit of silver between her teeth while she was opening her mouth. At that moment a girl approached her whom she knew. She removed the coin to give the newcomer a rapturous kiss on the lips. If the girl who carried the banner had not been cunningly devised tiny silken banner with the mystical words upon it, "Please do not kiss me," she would have saved herself future annoyance which it would have been hard for her to trace back to that fashionable salute which her girl friend gave her.

The kissing between father and daughter is not as much of a taboo as it used to be. Brothers always and a good excuse for not kissing their sisters. There is now less hypocrisy between aunts, nephews, and nieces than there used to be when the latter met their aunts with their ready kiss. And somehow numbers of husbands and wives fall out of the custom of greeting each other with the kiss habit, morning, noon, and night. If the wife is not about when he starts off for business he is one man in a hundred who will take the trouble to search for her. While fathers look on and their little mouths are puckered up for kisses, it is very hard to resist the temptation to cuddle them up in one's arms and to fairly cover them with kisses.

There is a great deal of great and graduate or the lover maid who stands at the path where girlish and womanhood meet, who look so irresistibly charming that many a young fellow has, upon the impulse of the moment, stolen a kiss from sheer admiration. This is the beginning of love with many a young fellow. There are many young men who would kiss without waiting to be seduced. For such a girl might well wear the fluttering silken message of modesty which would read: "Please do not kiss me." I am glad to say that few girls need the printed warning. This is for the few girls who do.

"HE'S HONEST AND SINCERE."
"Dear Miss Libbey: I have a girl friend who goes with a young man. I know this young man is honest and sincere. As I don't go with any one, he told me when he came up again he was going to bring one of his friends along and wanted me to meet him. From his way of talking, this friend of his is well liked where he lives. Now if this friend comes up and I like his appearance after meeting him, do you think it would be proper to accept his company while here and afterwards?"

If the young man is desirable and asks for your company there is no reason why you should not accept his attentions.

WHAT SHALL HE DO?
"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 20, going to school at Lake Forest. I am deeply in love with a girl, but she allows everyone in town to call on her. I am considered good looking and the girls all like me. She says she loves me better than any, but she will not stop keeping company with them. What shall I do? If you are not engaged to the girl you have no reason to expect her to give up her other friends and devote all her time to you. Besides, you are very foolish to be wasting your valuable school time on thoughts of girls. You would better give all your time and attention to fitting yourself for a successful life."

IN LOVE WITH SISTER.
"Dear Miss Libbey: I am keeping company with a nice young gentleman. One evening when he came to my home I introduced him to my sister, who was home from boarding school. He seemed very much infatuated with her. He made a date with her for the following evening and kept it up throughout her vacation. When she went back to school he wanted to come back to me. I refused him. Was I right? My sister hardly treated you fairly in appropriating your friend the way she did. If the fellow were deeply interested in you he would not have acted as he has. Would it be better for me to let him have her? I would like to hear from you. Try and get interested in some one else."

NEVER SPOKE TO HIM.
"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a young man and I am engaged to a dear sweet girl, whom I love very much. I am desperately in love with her, but her sister tells me she is stuck on her. I spoke to her about this, and she vowed her sister told me that because she was jealous. The other night in the theater this young man came in and sat by me. He was very nice and never even spoke to me. This proved me right. Would it be better for me to let her have him, for she pleaded so sweet that she did not like him and loved no one but me, or shall I speak to her about trying to win her affections? Shall I listen to what her sister says, or shall I have such strong confidence in her not to believe anything I hear?"

"BOBBY."
If you really loved the girl, Bobby, you would pay no attention to the stories you hear. If the girl tells you she does not care for the other fellow and loves you that surely ought to be proof enough for you.

A SINGULAR CASE.

"Dear Miss Libbey: Have you ever heard of anything equal to this? I am very much in love with a young lady and she was in love with me. Hearing that I

JOLLY DINNERS

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1913, by Lillian Russell.)

THE proverb says, "Chattered food is half digested." We all know that a meal eaten alone is not appreciated. We let our minds wander to our loneliness, our temperature becomes low, and the blood does not flow properly from the head to the digestive organs. A generous diet promotes vitality and capability for action. But high living is not good living. All food should be nutritious, but simply cooked and wholesome. There is an absolute necessity; the second, if not promptly digested, should not be followed by a third. The last meal of the day should be taken at least two hours before retiring. Going to bed with a full stomach is detrimental to health.

Tranquillity and cheerfulness promote digestion. A meal eaten slowly, in the midst of pleasant conversation, is readily assimilated, and at once invigorates the body and brain; while another, composed of the same viands, but eaten in silence, may prove but a clog upon the energies of both.

Eat slowly, masticate thoroughly, and, if possible, rest a few moments after each meal. Standing or sitting, driving in a motor car, or slowly walking, all are restful if taken with that intention.

In reference to quantity, I can only say eat as much as the system demands and is capable of assimilating, and no more.

A bright dining room is as necessary as bright company for digestion. Nothing gives a more dismal case of indigestion than eating alone in a dark room.

The man who fights his breakfast should be in an iron cage. The woman who caters to an ungrateful husband will grow old years before her time and lose all the joys of living.

Remember: Drunkenness is deplorably destructive, but her demure sister, gluttony, destroys a hundred for her one.

ANSWER TO QUERIES.
B. L. Y.—Thank you for your kind wishes. I advise you to choose some of the curling iron to wave your hair. The application of hot irons to the hair causes it to break and wither. In addition, it breaks the hair quickly by the method of its natural gloss and lustre. If you have never used the old fashioned kid curlers I wish you would give them a trial, as they give the hair a very pretty wave. These curlers can be obtained at any department store in three sizes—short, medium, and long. The short curlers are used for the forehead, the medium ones for the little tendrils at the nape of the neck, while the large ones can be used to wave your long heavy hair.

TRANSFORMER STATION BLOWN UP WITH DYNAMITE

TOWNS PLACED IN DARKNESS BY DEED

Western States Gas and Electric Property Badly Damaged

Company Has Had No Trouble With Men; Reward Is Offered.

The transformer station of the Western States Gas and Electric company on Kearny street, near Cutting boulevard, Richmond, was dynamited last evening at 9:30 o'clock, ruining the transformer and doing damage estimated at several thousands of dollars.

The transformer station governed the electric supply lights to Pullman, Stege, El Cerrito, East Richmond and the county line district, and as a result of the explosion the light service of all of these districts was cut off and cannot be resumed until the damage is repaired. A gang of electricians are at work today and they hope to get the matter arranged that the lights can be supplied to those districts by tonight.

DYNAMITERS UNIDENTIFIED.

The identity of the dynamiters or the reason for the destruction of the property of the Western States Gas and Electric company is at this time unknown, but it is said by the police that it is possible that sympathizers with the striking electricians of the Pacific Gas and Electric company mistook the local power company's transformer station for one belonging to the other electric company. It is also believed they are the same men who dynamited the transformer stations of the Pacific Gas and Electric company at Concord and Walnut Creek last Sunday. There is no question but that dynamite in large quantities was used. Investigations this morning show that the explosive had been placed on the platform of the two poles supporting the transformer. A 12-foot fuse was attached to the dynamite sticks giving the perpetrators fully twenty minutes before the explosion occurred. The great force of the explosion threw the transformer machinery high into the air and scattered pieces of it around for quite a distance, broke off the top of the pole, shattered another pole and blew the platform into kindlingwood.

HEARD MANY MILES.

The sound of the explosion was heard for many miles, people being of the opinion that it was some blasting going on in the rock quarries along the bay shore.

The lights in the business houses and residences went out at once and everything was in darkness.

Police and power officials were at once notified and a hasty investigation located the cause of the trouble.

Tracks of motorcycles in the road near the poles, where the machines had been left standing while the dynamites were at work, showed that the perpetrators had arrived and departed on machines of that kind.

"I know of no reason why our property should be destroyed," said Manager C. M. Brewer this morning. "We have had no trouble with our men or the electricians' union and our relations with our employees are of the most satisfactory character."

The Western States company has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of the perpetrators of the deed.

CARPENTERS UNION NO. 36 IS NOT WITH E. H. HART

That E. H. Hart, who appeared before the Civic Association recently declaring himself a representative of the labor organizations of this city was not sailing under true colors when he stated that all of the union organizations of this city were against regulating of saloons was the gist of action taken at a meeting of the Carpenters' Union, Local No. 36, Carpenters and Joiners of America, last night. The body expressed themselves as decidedly in opposition to Hart's views and enthusiastically voiced the sentiment being expressed by THE TRIBUNE.

"Anything that will make Oakland a clean city," stated R. W. Wiant, chairman of the committee appointed to draft resolutions, this morning. "is favored by the local body of carpenters and joiners of America."

Wiant, who was chosen to represent the local union bodies. We wish to have it known that we are decidedly in opposition to the statements made by Mr. Hart and we wish to set the carpenters in a clean light before the public."

A committee of three, of which R. W. Wiant is chairman, was appointed at last night's meeting with instructions to draft a set of resolutions as "hot as possible against the statements made by Hart."

CAMINETTI COUNSEL SCORED BY JUDGE

Attorney Woodworth Is Reproved for Making Press Statement

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Attorney Marshall Woodworth, chief counsel for F. Drew Caminetti, son of United States Commissioner of Immigration, charged with violating the Mann white slave act, was roundly scored by Judge Van Fleet at the opening of today's session of the trial.

A statement made by Woodworth and published in a local evening paper last night to the effect that the Mann act was intended to cover commercial vice, but not the indiscretions of a young man like Caminetti with Miss Lohi Norris, was responsible for the remark. Attorney Sullivan read the statement of Woodworth to the court, and explained that the jury was allowed to read the newspapers and that it might have a wrong effect.

"The court cannot imagine counsel so far forgetting themselves as to try this case in the newspapers," declared Judge Van Fleet.

The women outnumbered the men nearly two to one in the court room. The members of the feminine sex were largely young girls and they sat in the front row listening eagerly to the testimony. Neither the mother nor the wife of the defendant was present, but it was stated that they would be on hand later in the day. Only one-third of those who stood in line could be admitted to the court room.

The first witness, F. Lindner, clerk of the Riverside Hotel, Reno, told how Caminetti and Miss Norris had registered as P. F. Ross and wife and Diggs and Marsha Warrington as C. E. Enright and wife, had spent some time in the lobby, had been assigned to a suite of rooms and had left the next day, saying they were going to Denver.

P. J. Tahaney, secretary of the board of control, testified regarding Caminetti's resignation of a $150 per month position as clerk in support of the prosecution's contention that the defendant intended to desert his wife and family and live permanently at Reno. Constable Reid described Diggs remarking about two hats the men had used in their disguise and his saying to Marsha Warrington that if she would stick by him he would stand by her.

Other witnesses were F. J. Peck, who rented the four the bungalow, and E. W. Miller, who served them with groceries.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS AT SEA

A. Ganahl of Oakland Vanishes During Trip on Steamer Harvard.

Friends Fear Foul Play; Detectives Investigating; Find Effects in Stateroom.

Detectives this morning started a search extending from Oakland to San Diego for Lucien A. Ganahl of this city, son of a wealthy lumber man and prominent financier, who disappeared after having taken passage to Los Angeles on the steamer Harvard. The Harvard came into port on its return trip with the passenger missing, although his effects were on board. His ticket was not found among his effects. It is believed that he either disappeared before boarding or, walking in his sleep, stepped over the rail of the ship. According to his relatives, he was a somnambulist and often confined himself when at home to prevent his wandering away while asleep.

Ganahl, who lives at 159 Lake street, in this city, had left Oakland to visit his father, F. J. Ganahl, in the south. His wife is frantic with apprehension and is directing the search by detectives for her missing husband. She was formerly Miss Josephine Bromada, daughter of the late Adolph Bromada, pioneer candy manufacturer of San Francisco, and is a sister of E. T. Bromada, manager of the Pign Whistle's Oakland store.

That he may have been robbed and thrown overboard is another theory advanced by the detectives. Ganahl, who looked over the missing man's belongings when the ship came in, however, is not inclined to this theory, as his effects did not seem to have been disturbed. There was, however, a very small sum of money in his clothes when found in the stateroom, while it is known that he often carried large sums with him.

IN LUMBER BUSINESS.

The missing man is 35 years of age and has until recently been engaged in the lumber business. He has two daughters, one 10 and one 7 years old. Friends declare that he recently suffered serious illness and state that he may have been in a mental condition, never having boarded the boat, but wandered away. It is in this hope that the detectives are searching for him. The entire Pinkerton agency is aiding in the search.

C. J. McArthur, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Navigation Company, declares that the disappearance was not reported to him until the brother-in-law started the search. The man had not telegraphed to his wife, as he usually did when taking a trip of this kind.

McArthur states that there is no likelihood of the man's having been drowned and states that it is his belief that the latter left the boat at San Pedro in a dazed condition, and is wandering about there. The company officials are following up on this case.

Ganahl left Oakland a week ago to visit his father. He did not go so, and has not been heard of since. It is only when his effects were found on the ship's return trip that fears were entertained for his safety. Ganahl arrived in Oakland from Portland to make his home seven months ago, and has several relatives about the bay.

PREHISTORIC BONES ARE FOUND

Remains of Monster Amphibian Unearthed by Hayward Ditch Diggers.

Skeleton Discovered in Strata Twenty-two Feet Under Ground.

HAYWARD, Aug. 28.—The remains of a gigantic animal, evidently the relic of bygone ages, has been turned up by workmen near this town, embedded in the ground where water mains are being excavated. The fossilized bones are those of a creature shaped somewhat like a sea lion or huge walrus, and have created intense interest here. Experts from the University of California will examine the bones.

The relic of antediluvian times were found by a gang of ditch diggers working on the Neek Orchard tract water mains, and Al Arena of Hayward, superintendent of the work, turned up the first bone. The bones are embedded in the hard strata 22 feet underground.

Clamshells have been found in the earth near the place where the prehistoric monster's remains were unearthed. Centuries of earth deposits are believed to have covered what once was sea where Hayward stands today, and it is believed that at this time the clams and the body of the huge animal, evidently an amphibian, were covered. Clamshells have also been found buried under 40 feet of earth in the Castro valley.

The bones of the animal discovered by the ditch-diggers indicate an amphibious monster shaped like a huge walrus and an effort will be made to discover all of the bones. These, if found, will be sent to the state university.

The club will give another one of its novelties on September 10 in the form of a meion party and assures all those who have been invited a good time, which is always a motto of the Bachelors' Club.

Pollock Inspired George Ade Clever Sketch Is the Result

MILTON POLLOCK, WHO IS DELIGHTING ORPHEUM AUDIENCES IN GEORGE ADE'S PLAYLET, "SPEAKING TO FATHER."

The big crowds at the Oakland Orpheum who are enjoying so thoroughly the clever character work of Milton Pollock in the George Ade play, "Speaking to Father," are not alone. The play has gained much renown.

The story of "Speaking to Father" concerns the daughter of a man who is a manufacturer who has fallen in love with a college youth who has no other means of support than his diploma. The girl persuades her father to give his consent to the marriage, but this is granted conditionally, the terms being that the youth must prove that he is capable of supporting a wife. The young man does this by winning the affection of the daughter of a wealthy man, and thus the father's condition is fulfilled.

It was this friendship that caused Mr.

Ade to write "Speaking to Father" a comedy sketch which Pollock and company are presenting so successfully. The sketch is a playlet, Ade's and was written in 1911. It has since been produced in many theaters and has gained much renown.

"If you were compelled to sacrifice or destroy everything you had in your store but one, what would you endeavor to preserve?" was the question asked John W. Wamaker several years ago.

"The confidence of my customers," was the answer.

world of meaning in that one word. To Wamaker it meant years of unceasing toil, sacrifice, business strife unparalelled, for Wamaker pioneered the modern store idea—the idea of protecting the customer's interests and of building up a permanent business.

Good will is a most valuable asset, but real confidence means more than good will.

The simple statement, "You'll better get it at Bowman's," expresses a condition that has taken 40 years to develop and which will be protected by the management of Bowman's for all times to come.

INCENDIARY FIRE RAZES NOTORIOUS CLUBHOUSE

ALAMEDA, Aug. 28.—Fire of incendiary origin last night put an end to the discussion relative to the destruction of the North Star club house in Neptune Gardens. The house, which has come into an enviable notoriety of late as a rendezvous for meetings of young men and women, the climax having been reached when the police a few days ago arrested two youths and a girl, whom they found in the place.

When the fire broke out, a movement was on foot to have the building torn down. This was to have come up in the council meeting tomorrow night, but the delay that would necessarily have followed was not to be tolerated, and the torch was applied.

Acting Fire Chief Frank Millington detailed hose No. 2 to cover the report of fire. The firemen made no attempt to save the house, allowing it to go up in smoke. The building was not insured. The loss is about $200.

Son of Newman Banker Who Ran Into Motorcyclist Is Released.

A J. Stevinson the son of a wealthy Newman banker was acquitted by a jury in Superior Judge Wells' court last morning after a brief deliberation. In October, 1912, Stevinson in his automobile ran into Antonio Pimental, who was riding a motorcyclist at First avenue and East Twelfth street. Pimental died several days after the accident. When the case came up in the police court it was alleged that Stevinson had been intoxicated at the time of the accident, and that he was driving on the wrong side of the street.

Stevinson was held to answer to the superior court. When the taking of testimony commenced yesterday, Attorney L. S. Church and H. C. McKee, representing the defendant, produced an old decision of the supreme court which successfully prevented the introduction of evidence regarding the alleged intoxication of the defendant at the time of the accident.

Witnesses then briefly recited the circumstances of the case, and on the showing made the jury brought in a jury of not guilty.

A suit for $25,000 damages brought by Mrs. Pimental, widow of the man killed, against Stevinson is now before the court.
